

If you are a regular at the Valley Forge Bridge Club, and you wish to play on-line at another club's Virtual Game, you may run into a snag if you haven't played at that club within the most recent 12 month period. ACBL policy is set up to prevent clubs from 'poaching' players from another club; this is to protect the 'home' clubs' interests in these difficult times. If you have played at another club, you may play there at any time, but in order to play in a new venue, you will need to get permission from your 'home' club.

Valley Forge Bridge Club wants you to play as frequently as you can. Our games may be at an inconvenient time, or they may be too crowded (or too small) for you to enjoy playing in our Virtual Club. In any event, VFBC grants its regular players unrestricted permission to participate in any Virtual club games at any time.

To obtain ACBL clearance to enjoy this privilege, players should e-mail:

lynn.chapin@acbl.org

and submit:

- their player number
- our club number (#272922)
- the club number where they want to play
- reference this website for evidence of permission (www.vfbridge.com)
